Dear Ramon:

On behalf of the Certification Board of Governors, I would like to congratulate you on achieving the Certified Construction Manager (CCM) designation. You are now part of a growing segment of CM practitioners who have achieved the hallmark of their profession and are committed to delivering the highest possible service.

Certification is an important element in the growing recognition of construction management as a profession. Every designated CCM has a responsibility to uphold the standards of that profession, to continue to pursue his or her own development as a practitioner and to contribute to the continued enhancement of CM practice. Above all, the CCM must set a standard of honesty and integrity for all other practitioners to follow. As a CCM we look forward to your continued support.

Congratulations again, and I look forward to hearing of your continued success in the practice of construction management.

Sincerely,

Louis J. Couture, CCM, LEED®AP
